IMAGINE Software Welcomes Newest Client

Charlotte, NC – Technology Partners, Inc. (dba IMAGINE Software), a leading provider of medical billing technology, announces that billing and collection services company The Power One, LLC (ONE) has chosen the IMAGINeradiology™ practice management suite for its operation.

ONE focuses on providing clinical software services and business solutions to individual and group practices, medical billing companies, academic hospitals, and an array of hospital and office-based practices in specialties such as radiology, anesthesiology, cardiology, and pathology. The company plans to offer IMAGINE's technology to clients in the Northeast region of the United States.

"IMAGINE is known for designing state-of-the-art technology," said Stephen G. Sullivan, Sr., Founder, Chairman and CEO of The Power One, LLC. "I have been in this industry for more than 33 years and after evaluating all other systems on the market, I picked what I believe is absolutely the best practice management platform. IMAGINeradiology™ offers a breakthrough system that I can successfully build my company around."

"We are honored that Mr. Sullivan has chosen IMAGINeradiology™ as the core software solution for The Power One," stated Sam Khashman, President and CEO of IMAGINE Software. "His experience and knowledge of healthcare information systems is unparalleled in the industry. We look forward to supporting ONE with the IMAGINE practice management suite to give Mr. Sullivan the most advanced technology, automation capabilities, and performance available."

About Stephen G. Sullivan, Sr. and The Power One, LLC

Stephen G. Sullivan, Sr. has more than 40 years of experience in information systems, including system design, development, and programming, along with sales, finance, marketing, business development, and product management. He has spent more than 33 years specializing in healthcare information systems and services, distinguishing himself as an entrepreneur and CEO within the field. Sullivan first founded the software technology company Administrative Information Systems Corporation (AISCORP.) in 1976 to design, develop, market and support information systems used by healthcare providers. After 15 years of sole ownership, in 1991, he sold AISCORP to what is now McKesson Corporation, where the software continues to serve many practices. Sullivan has established several other organizations, including Performance Systems, Inc. (PSI), a consulting firm serving the medical, pharmaceutical and telecommunications industries, and AdvantEdge HealthCare Solutions (AHS), one of the country's leading medical billing companies. Sullivan recently founded The Power One, LLC, a third generation, privately owned company uniquely positioned to provide customers with the single best source of technology, services, and industry expertise available on the market today.
