IMAGINE Software Highlights IMAGINERadiology™ Environmental Benefits

Charlotte, NC – IMAGINE Software, a leading provider of medical billing technology, announces efforts to promote environmental conservation through the IMAGINERadiology™ practice management system.

The company is focused on designing and enhancing billing products around a strategy that emphasizes measures to increase efficiency, conserve energy and reduce waste. The IMAGINERadiology™ Product Suite utilizes a variety of features that generate eco-friendly results, including Ipay, a web-based patient portal that promotes online bill pay and helps reduce the number of paper statements; trueICE Document Imaging, a scanning utility that eliminates the paper chase by making documents searchable and manageable; Electronic Remittance, a function that helps shorten the reimbursement cycle in addition to reducing paper and printing costs; Claim Scrubbers, a feature that increases first-time payments through reduced follow-up and resubmission of claims; Lifetime Accounts, which creates a single account per patient to reduce the number of statements, call volume and mailing costs; and Ifax, a component that provides the ability to fax all materials directly from the desktop without copying or printing.

“More and more, we are seeing clients who are attracted by our efficient and cost-effective product line,” said Chris Fitzgerald, Client Services Manager for IMAGINE Software. “What we hope they will realize is that these same features also aid users in making environmentally conscious choices throughout the entire lifecycle of a claim, which will in turn save energy and reduce paper waste in the office. We are proof that technology and people can work together to preserve our planet.”

Technology Partners is also taking a step forward in minimizing its own ecological footprint by initiating an internal campaign to reduce, reuse and recycle within the organization.
